2026 Chair
ATD Program Advisory Committee

Jim Caprara
2026 Chair
ATD Board of Directors

Welcome to ATD26! We're so glad you're here!

As talent development professionals, we share a responsibility to both reflect where our profession is today and help shape where it's headed next. ATD26 is designed with that responsibility in mind, guided by extensive member input, practitioner expertise, and a clear focus on what our field needs to succeed in an increasingly complex and fast-changing environment.

The pace of change across organizations, industries, and the workforce continues to accelerate. New technologies, evolving expectations, and shifting business priorities are redefining how and when we learn, lead, and develop people. This year's theme, Embrace Disruption. Direct the Future., serves as the lens for the entire conference experience.

Throughout ATD26, you'll see intentional choices designed to give you greater agency in shaping your own journey. From the overall structure of the event to the way learning, networking, and technology come together, this year's conference reflects a more flexible, attendee-centered approach. One that recognizes learning happens in many ways, not just in traditional session rooms.

You'll experience a range of learning formats that meet you where you are. You'll also notice a strong emphasis on community and connection with facilitated peer-to-peer conversations, redesigned gathering spaces, and expanded moments for engagement with your peers throughout the event.

ATD26 also reflects thoughtful updates to the overall conference experience, from how the days are structured to how technology and shared spaces support learning, connection, and reflection throughout the event. This year, we've chosen to evolve our networking experience by investing in multiple inclusive receptions held directly on the EXPO floor rather than hosting a separate, ticketed Networking Night. This enables every attendee to be involved in numerous networking activities without having to buy additional tickets.

ATD chose each of our keynote speakers to provide insights relevant to the current moment.

- Freestyle+ kicks things off Sunday with an "unkeynote" using the transformative power of improvisation, and combining performance, neuroscience, and experiential learning to rewire how people respond to the unexpected.
- Monday brings us Zack Kass, an advisor, researcher, keynote speaker, and former Head of Go-to-Market at OpenAI. Zack's talk, The Next Renaissance, counters the conventional dystopian narrative of AI, and shares a positive vision that offers the potential for game-changing innovation, opportunity, and human potential.
- Tuesday, Will Guidara, bestselling author of Unreasonable Hospitality and restaurateur, will share how an unreasonable approach to the pursuit of human connection can help you win and give people an experience they'll remember forever.
- Researcher, executive advisor, and author, Liz Wiseman, will close out ATD26 by sharing her deep research on how the best leaders build high-impact teams, even during uncertainty.

As you move through the conference, we encourage you to be intentional. Try something new. Spend time in conversation with peers. Balance inspiration with application. And focus on what will best equip you to lead and direct the future of talent development within your organization and community.

We are grateful to the many volunteers, speakers, partners, and ATD staff who contributed their expertise and time to bring ATD26 to life. Most importantly, we thank you for being part of this community and for the work you do every day to develop people and organizations.

We're honored to welcome you to ATD26 and excited to learn alongside you.

THE HIDDEN ARCHITECTURE OF HIGH-PERFORMING ORGANIZATIONS

Speed doesn't come from effort. It comes from architecture.

Caitlin Johnson

Vice President
& Partner for LPI USA

Behind every high-performing organization is a clearly defined leadership system – one that determines how leaders are produced and how performance is sustained.

Most organizations consume leadership talent faster than they produce it.

High-performing organizations design the architecture that creates it.

In this Solutions Session, discover how clearly defined roles, clean handoffs, and intentional leadership transitions eliminate bottlenecks and build leadership capacity at scale.

The Value of Certification

Achieving an ATD talent development certification, such as Associate Professional in Talent Development (APTD®) and Certified Professional in Talent Development (CPTD®), can have significant benefits for a talent development professional, the L&D programs they create, and the organizations they work for.

Benefits for Talent Development Professionals

91% saw an increase in their confidence.
79.8% saw increased marketability for career advancement.

Benefits for L&D Programs

80.6% of ATD certificants saw improvement in the effectiveness of the programs they developed.

Benefits for Organizations

62% improved retention of TD teams.
73.3% saw improved productivity.

92.6% of those certified report gaining greater insight into talent development because of becoming ATD certified. This translates into 82.5% having improved decision-making at work.

Investing in certification pays off!
For every $1 spent, as time or money, the return* is:

aptd = $2.55
cptd = $1.78

Programs created by ATD certificants had a 73.6% increase in stakeholder satisfaction.
88.1% of ATD certificants say the quality of their work improved after achieving ATD certification.

“Earning the credential helped me feel more confident in my own knowledge and experience. I went from “I think this will work...” to “here’s why this will work!” -Michael Yesko, CPTD

*For this study, ROI was calculated based on positive changes in work behaviors due to certification, such as improved program quality versus certification program investment, such as exam fees, resources, and the cost of time spent studying.
